WHAT WE DO

We are a leading specialist distribution group supplying a broad range of non-food consumable products that are essential for our customers to operate their businesses.

We have partnered with both suppliers and customers in providing outsourcing solutions and service oriented distribution.

We are active in 23 countries with more than 13,000 employees working from over 240 distribution centres. Our main customer markets include contract cleaning, food processors, healthcare, hotel & catering, industrial, redistribution, retail and safety.

We provide our customers with value-added integrated supply services, including procurement and inventory management, to enable them to focus on their core businesses and increase their efficiency and competitiveness.

We are successful because we understand our customers' needs and deliver products when and where they need them.

OUR BUSINESS MODEL

Our business model offers significant benefits to both customers and suppliers. We source our products internationally, working with top international brands as well as local suppliers, to ensure that our customers have access to the best and most suitable products to meet their needs.

By outsourcing the purchasing, consolidation and distribution of a broad range of non-food consumable products, our customers are able to focus on their core businesses as well as achieving significant purchasing efficiencies, freeing up working capital and simplifying their internal administration.

CONVENIENT ORDERING OPTIONS

Our products can be ordered via telephone, fax, email, EDI, mail and our secure online ordering site <https://webconnect.bunzl.com.au>

DELIVERING ON OUR RESPONSIBILITY TO REDUCE OUR ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT

Through a diverse range of initiatives from improving our paper and plastic recycling to fitting energy saving lights in our warehouses and reducing our fuel consumption, we are committed to reducing the environmental impact of our operations. We are also continually developing further ideas on green products as well as providing staff education and customer information.

BE GREEN

At Bunzl we see our commitment to reducing our impact on the environment as a key area of our corporate social responsibility. From increasing recycling programmes to reducing fuel usage to sourcing green products: we're constantly looking for new ways to improve our performance.

Our environmental strategy is three pronged. First, we measure key areas of impact. Second, we set standards to reduce our global footprint. Third, we communicate what we've learned to our employees and our customers. Working together we can build a more sustainable future.

OPERATING TO REDUCE OUR ENVIRONMENTAL IMPACT

Our environmental programmes have been in place for a number of years and we continually review and seek to improve our performance in this area.

Bunzl plc is included in the FTSE4Good Index.

Our key areas of focus are:

- Increasing waste for recycling and reducing waste to landfill;
- Reduction of fuel used for transportation;
- Environmentally friendly service offering; and
- Environmentally friendly products.

Bunzl Australasia also gained national accreditation to ISO14001. This is the most well-known environmental operating standard and is certified by an external certification authority. Gaining accreditation means that Bunzl has implemented and maintained an environmental management system, which provides for continuous improvement in environmental performance.

ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY SERVICE OFFERING

A fundamental part of Bunzl's offering to customers is our expertise and in depth product knowledge, coupled with the ability to consolidate the procurement and delivery of a broad range of non-food consumable products. This service can cut the environmental impact as it can reduce the number of deliveries within a company's total supply chain, as well as decrease the amount of invoices and payments. Bunzl's core service offering can help customers to reduce fuel emissions, paper usage and other energy requirements. Further, a consolidated invoice allows better monitoring of the use of consumables and therefore can reduce duplication and waste.

ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY PRODUCTS

We recognise that our customers want to know about environmentally friendly products and how they can participate in positive initiatives around sustainability. At Bunzl we see our role as providing a range of alternative environmentally products and helping our customer make informed choices without bias towards any specific solution. This could be through products manufactured from renewable, recycled and/or biodegradable materials. The process starts with clearly defining the product's sustainability characteristics with a clear and easy to use series of symbols that operate across the group.

BIODEGRADABLE

A finished product that can break down or decompose under natural conditions and processes within a restricted period of time e.g. PLA, wood or paper

RECYCLABLE

The product is disposable via local council, household and community recycling programs. It is easily reconstituted into a variety of practical applications. e.g. PET plastic or cardboard paper.

RENEWABLE

The finished product is predominantly manufactured from a naturally occurring raw material that will be replenished through normal ecological cycles e.g. paper, wood or corn.

ENERGY EFFICIENT

Products that have been specifically designed to have a lower impact on the environment, usually by using less energy with the added benefit of lower running costs.

FOOD PREPARATION

Solutions for an effective and safe food preparation system

An important part of food preparation is the prevention of any risk of food borne illness. We provide simple solutions for labelling, identification and rotation of foods; easy-to-use apparatus for controlling temperatures to prevent rapid growth of bacteria; and various wrapping options for containing foods. A well-organised kitchen saves time, improves efficiency, minimises wastage and prevents contamination.

We have the right products for you to meet your food safety requirements.

Thermometers

Infrared Thermometers

Infrared thermometers produce accurate temperature readings of food and equipment surfaces. Infrared thermometers can reduce the risk of cross-contamination and damage to food products because they do not require contact with food. They have a fast response time and a wide temperature range. However, infrared thermometers should not be used to measure air temperature or the internal temperature of food.

FD40604	HACCP Infrared Thermometer	Each	(A)
FD40605	HACCP Infrared Thermometer With Probe	Each	(B)
FD49601	Economy Infrared Thermometer	Each	(C)

Digital Probe Thermometers

Digital probe food thermometers use a resistor (a ceramic semiconductor bonded in the tip with temperature-sensitive epoxy) to measure temperature. As the centre of a food is usually cooler than the outer surface, place the tip in the centre of the thickest part of the food. To prevent overcooking, check the temperature before the food is expected to finish cooking. One of the critical factors in controlling bacteria in food is controlling the temperature. Pathogenic microorganisms grow very slowly at low temperatures, multiply rapidly in mid-range temperatures, but are killed at high temperatures. This means that a thermometer is essential when preparing meat and poultry to prevent undercooking and consequently prevent foodborne illness.

Fridge / Freezer Thermometers

Many walk-in fridges are equipped with internal digital thermometers, making it easy to see and adjust internal temperatures. However, hanging easy to read fridge / freezer thermometers will make it easy to monitor the accuracy of these digital thermometers. When placed throughout the unit, fridge / freezer thermometers can identify temperature deviances throughout the unit and identify warm areas. It is vital to monitor the temperature of your refrigerator and freezer units regularly.
